Reliability That Could Only Come From SIG. Engineered and manufactured in New Hampshire, SIG 1911 pistols must meet the same rigorous quality and performance standards of any SIG pistol. And with all-metal frames, rugged construction and protective coatings, they are built to age just as well as Browning's design.

This cartridge was developed by John Browning and was adopted by the United States Ordnance Department along with the Colt-Browning automatic pistol in 1911. It has also been made the official military handgun chambering by several other governments, notably Argentina, Mexico and Norway. The 45 Automatic is the most powerful military handgun cartridge in use today. This is a heavy and powerful ...
